

STONE
ADVISORY SERVICES

Better strategy. Stronger business. Smarter growth.

Strategic advisory for founders, executives, and organizations navigating growth, operational challenges, and complex decisions.

Growth Has a Way of Exposing the Gaps.

Businesses rarely struggle because they lack ideas. More often, growth exposes problems that were easier to manage when the organization was smaller - unclear priorities, inefficient processes, leadership gaps, operational risk, or decisions that keep getting pushed down the road.

Stone Advisory Services helps leaders identify what's really getting in the way, determine what needs to change, and build a practical path forward.

Stone Advisory is built for moments when:

- Growth has stalled or become unpredictable.
- The business has outgrown its current structure or processes.
- Leadership is too close to the problem to see the best path forward.
- A major opportunity is ahead, but you're not sure the organization is ready.
- Complex decisions keep getting delayed because there isn't enough clarity.
- You need executive-level perspective without adding another full-time executive.

What We Do

Strategic Advisory

Navigate growth, complex decisions, organizational change, and long-term business priorities.

Fractional Executive Advisory

Get experienced, ongoing executive guidance without the cost or commitment of a full-time executive.

Operational Strategy

Identify inefficiencies, strengthen processes, reduce risk, and build the structure needed to scale.

Government & Public Sector Advisory

Navigate government contracting, procurement strategy, organizational readiness, compliance, and growth opportunities.

We don't hand you a playbook. We help you build the right one.

Clarity - We get to the real issue.

We cut through complexity, challenge assumptions, and identify what's actually standing in the way.

Candor - We tell you what you need to hear.

No consulting theater. No unnecessary recommendations. You'll get an experienced, objective perspective, even when the answer is difficult.

Action - We leave you with a clear way forward.

Insight becomes priorities, decisions, and practical next steps your team can act on.

Why Stone Advisory Services

Stone Advisory brings together executive leadership, business ownership, operational strategy, and government-sector experience to look at challenges from more than one angle.

The goal isn't to create more work.

It's to help you make better decisions about the work that matters.
